WOODSTOCK II

The 25th anniversary of the historic Woodstock concert has come and gone and Santana, according to the Albany Times Union, was one of the best groups there. The band arrived in the area Saturday night, following three shows at the Greek Theater in Los Angeles. The band stayed in Pleasant View, approximately 25 miles away from the concert site, but that short drive the following morning took two and one half hours as the clogged roads reduced the traveling speed to a crawl. At one point, as the vans carrying the band and crew got closer to the site, the hundreds of concertgoers who lined the road walking to the venue became aware that Carlos was in one of the vans and their friendly waves of recognition and cheerful comments were all the more impressive given all the muck and rain they were enduring. Once there everyone had to deal with the mud, everywhere more mud, but that did not dampen the spirits of the musicians or the audience. Carlos said, "It was overwhelming to see a living organism of Spirit and flesh that endured the weather and circumstances. It was very inspiring to feel the people's radiant smiles and their penetrating hungry eyes. It was richly rewarding to witness such a harmonious event again."

Carlos had planned to bring Jimi Hendrix and Bill Graham back to Woodstock by playing a video tribute to the two just prior to the start of his set; however, legal issues prevented this. Carlos did invite Jimi Hendrix's step-sister, Janie, and his cousin Diane on stage during "Make Somebody Happy" to make a statement about Jimi's music and estate. It was obvious by the roar of the crowd that love for Jimi's music and spirit is very strong.

Selections from the sets of the artists will be released later this year on A & M Records.

IT'S A FAMILY AFFAIR

Santana Brothers

For those of you who want to know the identities of the people enclosed in Carlos' arms on the cover, they are (left to right): Carlos Santana as a young boy, Jorge Santana, in the Beaver cap, as a young boy and Carlos Hernandez in Junior High School. In the center is Jose Santana, Carlos and Jorge's father and next to him is Saunders King, Carlos' father-in-law.

BROTHERS, Carlos' 29th album, is truly a family affair. Joined by his brother Jorge and their nephew Carlos Hernandez, Brothers will be released on September 27. "I felt that the music that my brother and nephew were writing deserved to be heard," says Carlos about the inspiration for the project. "I'm grateful that I have the opportunity to shed some light on their work and to be able to present it to my fans." This album is almost exclusively instrumental and will be released on Carlos' label, Guts & Grace Music, which is distributed by Island Records.

WALNUT STREET GALLERY PRESENTS

SANTANA '69

The year was 1969.

Peace, Love and Rock & Roll was all that mattered.

A little known musician stepped on the stage at WOODSTOCK and played "SOUL SACRIFICE". That unforgettable performance launched a career that has continued into the nineties.

That little known musician was Carlos Santana.
Today, Carlos Santana would like to pay tribute to Bill Graham and the festival that helped launch his incredible career.

ROLLING STONE MAGAZINE photographer, Baron Wolman was able to capture that incredible moment forever. Carlos Santana, Bill Graham and the beautiful people that made WOODSTOCK happen.

That unbelievable moment can be shared by all. Walnut Street Gallery has created a poster from the original Baron Wolman photograph.

The poster is $25.00

For information regarding the poster or the limited edition serigraph, signed by Carlos Santana, Bill Graham's Estate & Baron Wolman.

#25502 $8

As an artist, it's very important for me to be involved with every step during the development of each of these products. I work very closely with other artists - including those at Heaven Smiles - to make sure these items communicate spirituality. I want them all to embrace color, composition and an overall vision of harmonic convergence.
